ASSETS

The plan on one spread

AMG Aviation Group is owner-controlled aviation support coordination for Part 91 owners, flight departments, maintenance facilities, and professional crew. The launch leads with calm confidence, not hype.

The big idea

"Coordinated." — Crew. Movement. Maintenance. One word for the whole promise: the jet, the crew, the maintenance ferry, the paperwork, the visibility — handled, in sequence, without taking the controls out of the owner's hands.

Primary goal

Full brand launch: introduce AMG + AMG Connect, drive qualified support requests, and grow the crew and partner networks. Primary CTA everywhere: Start a support request.

Four message pillars

Owner-controlled

You keep operating authority and final acceptance on every request.

$295 flat • zero markup

One flat coordination fee. Every pass-through cost billed at cost, receipts included. Most requests quoted in ~12 hours.

Credential-reviewed crew

Coverage matched by region, aircraft experience, and credential readiness — reviewed before assignment.

One portal — AMG Connect

Requests, documents, quotes, and status in one role-based view for owners, crew, partners, and admins.

Audiences • Voice • Guardrails

Audiences: aircraft owners & flight departments (primary) • professional crew/pilots • partners, vendors & maintenance shops.

Voice: measured, precise, premium, discreet. Short sentences, operational nouns, confidence through restraint.

Guardrails: AMG coordinates, it does not operate the aircraft; the owner/operator keeps operating authority & final acceptance; no absolute guarantees ("always/instant/guaranteed"); pricing mirrors the site's worked example; examples are illustrative (no real tail numbers, clients, or itineraries).

Hashtags • Links • Measurement

Hashtag bank (3 on LinkedIn, 5–8 on IG): core #AMGAviation #Coordinated • category #PrivateAviation #BusinessAviation #Part91 #FlightDepartment #AircraftManagement #BizAv • crew #ContractPilot #CorporatePilot #PilotJobs #AviationCareers • partner #AircraftMaintenance #MRO #AviationPartners.

Links (base amgaviationgroup.com): /request-support • /contact • /pricing • /how-it-works • /pilots • /credential-submission • /for-shops • /login (? mode=request for access).

UTM pattern: ?utm_source={linkedin|instagram|email}&utm_medium=social&utm_campaign=launch_2026&utm_content={slug}. Instagram has no clickable in-caption links — route through the link in bio and repoint it per phase.

KPIs: support requests started (primary) • portal access requests • crew applications • partner inquiries • engagement rate • email open/click. Review at Day 3, Day 8, Day 15; double down on the best-converting pillar + channel.

Owning or running a private aircraft means a hundred moving parts — a crew gap on Thursday, a ferry to a maintenance facility, a repositioning before the next trip, the paperwork behind all of it. Handling it shouldn't mean handing over control.

AMG coordinates the people, planning, and operational support around your aircraft — while you keep operating authority and final say. That's the whole idea.

What we coordinate:

- Contract pilot support — coverage matched to your aircraft, the role, and the mission, reviewed before assignment.
- Ferry & repositioning — movement handled, responsibilities kept clearly defined.
- Maintenance flight support — positioning to and from facilities with the requirement and next action always in view.
- AMG Connect — one role-based portal for requests, documents, quotes, and status.

And the part owners tell us they've been waiting for: a $295 flat coordination fee, every pass-through cost billed at cost, receipts included. No markup on your pilot, your fuel, or your per diem. Most requests quoted within ~12 hours.

Here's a real coordination breakdown. SR22 maintenance ferry, Tampa → Atlanta, Standard plan:

Contract pilot (1 day) — $600

Airline return — $240

Per diem — $75

AMG coordination — $295

Every pass-through line is billed at cost, with receipts. Our $295 is flat — the same whether your pilot costs $500 or $700. We don't make more when your flight costs more.

LINKEDIN

A crew gap shouldn't ground a schedule — or force a scramble.

AMG organizes crew coverage by region, aircraft experience, credential readiness, and the scope of the request. Coverage is matched to your aircraft and mission and reviewed before assignment — coverage indicators aren't a promise of instant placement, and we'd rather say that plainly.

LINKEDIN

The worst part of aircraft support is usually the not-knowing — where a request stands, which document is missing, whether the quote was seen.

AMG Connect puts it in one place. Approved owners, crews, partners, and administrators each see the requests, documents, messages, quotes, invoices, and status their role requires — without replacing operational approval or final support acceptance.

Maintenance flight support

LINKEDIN

A maintenance flight has a way of spawning a dozen small questions: who's flying it, is the aircraft's status clear, what's the next action, who signed off.

AMG coordinates positioning to and from facilities with the requirement, status, and next action kept visible the whole way — so nothing stalls waiting on an answer nobody has. The owner/operator keeps authority and final acceptance throughout.

A week in, the most common question we're getting is a good one: what actually happens when I send a request? Here's the whole thing.

1. Request. Tell us the aircraft, the route, and the timing. A few lines is enough to start.
2. Reviewed for fit. We review aircraft status, documents, and owner/operator approval, and confirm the request is something we can coordinate well. Coverage indicators aren't a promise of instant placement — we review before we commit.
3. Coordinated. Crew, movement, and maintenance handled, with the requirement and next action kept visible in AMG Connect the whole way. Most requests are quoted within ~12 hours — pass-through costs at cost, plus the flat $295 coordination fee.

Through all of it, you keep operating authority and final acceptance. AMG coordinates around you, not over you.
